

How do I declare history credit for high school students? What do I name the credits?

Because our Year 1-4 history courses go from ancient to modern-history, stopping in different places to explore in depth each year, parents wonder what to list as the name of the courses to fulfill high school history credit if that is required to be submitted by your state. Remember, if your state does not require credits, you can do whatever you want.

Here are our suggestions, based on which years contain the most content in each category:

Year 1 History Course	1 Credit US History
Year 2 History Course	1 Credit US History
Year 3 History Course	1 Credit World History
Year 4 History Course	1 Credit World History
US Constitution & Government	.5 Credit Government/.5 credit Economics

Note: Geography is covered in the Language Arts & Literature courses. For credit purposes, you can name those courses "High School 1 Language Arts, Literature, and Geography," and so on.
